Yachts 'gummed-up'

Oil ruins scenic beach

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Thick, gummy oil — part of a huge ocean slick fed by a spurting undersea well — fouled yachts and waterfront facilities at this scenic city's small boat harbor Wednesday. Miles of beaches were blackened and the toll of wildlife continued.

Waves snapped a chain of logs stretched across the entrance to the harbor overnight and an onshore wind drove in oil up to six inches thick. About 60 persons who live on the 700 boats in the area were evacuated because of noxious fumes and the danger of fire.

Meanwhile, the well six miles offshore leaked uncontrolled for the ninth day, creating a slick that extended 40 miles seaward past offshore islands and 25 miles eastward along the coast. It covered an estimated 800 square miles of the Pacific Ocean. Crews trying to check the 21,000-gallon-a-day flow had to abandon the drilling platform for a time after natural gas fumes bubbled to the surface along with the oil.

A spokesman for Union Oil Co. said it is hoped that continuing injections of mud into the well and adjoining undersea strata would check the flow in a day or so. The firm continued to spray chemicals on the surface, trying to break up the oil.

This resort city 90 miles northwest of Los Angeles, framed by jutting purple mountains and overlooking a crescent strand of beaches, has long been deemed one of Southern California's most beautiful communities.

Now its shore is one long mess. "The smell," said a visitor, "is awful."

Repair of the log boom, set out to check the oil, corked the little harbor trapping inside the floating layer of gunk six inches thick.

It clung to the sides of boats, to docks and bulkheads and smeared the sand black.

Officials ordered equipment to skim the ooze from the water surface and load it into barges. On beaches, they scattered straw on the oil. Then workmen raked it into heaps and trucked it away.

There was no estimate of damage to the harbor.

Reports of harm to wildlife continued to come in. Sea birds coated with oil washed up on beaches, dead and alive. The State Fish and Game Department, which established three stations to treat them, reported that 111 of 208 brought in have died.

Most of the birds are diving grebes.

Authorities dispatched game wardens to offshore islands to determine whether the oil lapping on their shore is harming seals, sea lions and other amphibians that live and breed there.

Thousands of the animals frequent the islands and there was fear that they might suffer from breathing fumes or ingesting oil. But an inspection indicated no sign that they were affected.

Concentrations of oil near the islands were reported thinning Wednesday.

U.S. okays summit talk on Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States agreed Wednesday to a French proposal for four-power talks on the Middle East situation, but suggested that the way be paved first with preliminary discussions.

The U.S. reply was handed to French Ambassador Charles Lucet by Secretary of State William P. Rogers shortly after noon.

It said the United States "is prepared in principle to consider favorably a meeting of representatives of France, the U.S.S.R., the United Kingdom and the United States within the framework of the U.N. Security Council" to discuss ways of settling the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer, said the note suggested preliminary discussions on a bilateral basis to work out a formula for "a fruitful and constructive" four-power meeting.

Congress gives self hefty pay increase

Postmaster taken out of politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced Wednesday that politics will no longer be involved in the appointment of postmasters, and they will be picked only on the "best qualified candidate" basis.

Nixon, telling newsmen of the plan, described as historic this departure from the patronage system that has been a major criterion since this nation's early years.

But Democrats asked about the announcement were generally skeptical that politics would be eliminated, although they went along with the idea.

Nixon introduced Postmaster General Winton M. Blount who said when future vacancies occur for both postmasterships and rural carrier jobs "the best qualified candidate will be appointed, regardless of his or her politics—indeed without anyone even asking the candidate's party affiliation."

Blount said the change will be made without any action by Congress.

But he said the Nixon administration will submit legislation to do away with the present requirement that the Senate confirm nominees for postmasterships.

Blount, in response to questions, conceded that a congressman still will be able to write a letter of character reference for a candidate.

As under the patronage system, he said, postmasters will continue to be chosen from among the three top scorers in open, competitive Civil Service examinations, which is the system with all career federal positions.

James Rademacher, president of the 210,000-member National Association of Letter Carriers, welcomed "the removal of thousands of political plums" from the postal service. He said the main benefit would be the positive effect on the morale of postoffice employees.

French cheer Borman

PARIS (AP) — Frenchmen turned out in large numbers Wednesday for a glimpse of Col. Frank Borman, the American astronaut who circled the moon more than 100 years after the French writer Jules Verne envisioned a moon trip in a book.

Crowds gathered wherever Borman and his wife went on their first day in Paris and they milled outside City Hall as the astronaut shook hands with Verne's grandson, 75-year-old Jean Jules Verne, and told him his grandfather was a space today.

Jules Verne's imaginary moon flight came in his book "Voyage from the Earth to the Moon," written in 1865.

Borman presented the grandson, a retired judge, with a framed engraving showing the splashdown of Apollo 8 in the Pacific in December after the flight around the moon.

A letter from Borman told Verne: "Generations of American schoolboys—including Capt. Lovell, Maj. Anders and I—have been fascinated by the books of your illustrious grandfather. In a very real sense, Jules Verne is one of the pioneers of the space age."

Jean Jules Verne, 12 years old when his grandfather died in 1905, responded: "I always believed everything he wrote about would eventually come true. This is one of the happier moments of my life."

Accompanied by his blonde wife, Susan, and their two teenage sons, Borman got a hero's welcome from French crowds. They clapped and cheered and begged him for autographs.

Cabinet salaries also up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress handed itself a 41 per cent pay boost Wednesday—along with hefty increases for the Cabinet and federal judges — despite cries of critics that there should be moderation in wage-price hikes.

The House Rules Committee refused 12 to 3 to clear for floor action a resolution to veto the pay boosts scheduled to go into effect Feb. 14.

Congressional salaries go up $12,500 a year to $42,500. Cabinet members jump from $35,000 to $69,000 and Supreme Court justices from $39,500 to $60,000. Lower court judges and agency heads get substantial but smaller increases.

The Rules Committee killed a resolution by Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, to force members on record for or against their own salary increase put into motion last month by President Lyndon B. Johnson. President Nixon sent word to Capitol Hill Tuesday that he favored the increases.

The boosts are effective under a 1967 law 30 days after the president proposes them unless either the House or Senate vetoes them.

The Senate Tuesday voted down a veto resolution by a 47-34 margin.

Gross, fighting to block the raises, said it is outrageous for Congress to give itself a 41 per cent pay increase while inflation is increasing. Taxes have been raised and he said the government is asking workers in private industry to be moderate in wage demands.

The Rules Committee action kept House members from being in the unpalatable position of voting a pay raise for themselves. The Senate, in effect, did so but its members do not all have to face re-election within two years as all House members do.

The fight in the Senate was spearheaded by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who said the increases could trigger wage demands by all government employees and could eventually cost an extra $4.5 billion a year.

Gross conceded after the Rules Committee vote that he has no further avenue for blocking the raises in view of the time element.

Prisoner leaps from plane

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — An army prisoner jumped 3,000 feet from an airplane into rough terrain about 15 miles northwest of here Wednesday after questioning his guard about how to use a parachute.

An air and ground search was being conducted for the man in wooded hills.

Iraqis free U.S. engineer while preparing new trials

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Paul Bail, an American engineer whose tinkering with radios landed him in jail as a suspected spy, was freed by Iraqi authorities Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the head of the tribunal that sent 14 persons, including nine Jews, to the gallows earlier this month announced that a new espionage trial would start soon.

Bail, a production engineer for a consortium of Western oil concerns, didn't know of his release until he was ushered into the Baghdad Museum for a televised news conference.

At first he refused to believe what was happening. Then, pale, drawn and groping for words, he told reporters: "I'm glad to be released. . . That's about it."

Bail was arrested a month ago on charges of "carrying out activities within the sphere of espionage."

Iraqi officials claimed he had an unlicensed radio transmitter. But Belgian diplomats, who represent U.S. interests in this Arab capital, contended the instrument was nothing more than an old-fashioned short-wave receiver. They said a high antenna on the roof of Bail's home aroused suspicion in the height of the country's spy fever.

Bail, under a glare of television lights, sat at a table on the stage of the museum lecture hall beside the Iraqi Information Ministry secretary, Shazal Taqaa.

"Despite all the faults you have done, and because we Arab people have our noble principles and values, you, Mr.

Paul Bail, are free as from this moment," Taqaa said.

"You can join your wife and I am sure she will be happy to have you back at home," he added.

Unable to believe he had been released so suddenly, Bail remained seated until Taqaa beckoned him to get up and talk briefly to newsmen.

Then he was led to a ministry car and driven to the Belgian Embassy.

Engineer calls Pueblo old scow

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The USS Pueblo was pictured by its chief engineer Wednesday as a small, old vessel that lacked items such as watertight hatches and a good communications system that he felt were needed to enable it to function effectively as an intelligence ship.

CWO Gene Howard Lacy said he believed the Navy denied this equipment because there were no precise plans for the ship's conversion from a freighter and they were made up as work went along.

Lacy also said he felt the ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, could not have resisted seizure by North Korean gunboats.

As for scuttling the ship to keep it and classified gear out of North Korean hands, Lacy said this would have taken at least 2½ hours—the same estimate Bucher gave earlier.

South Viet cancels leaves to stall off Tet surprise

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's command announced Wednesday all military leaves will be canceled Monday, a week before Tet as a precaution in case the enemy launches a major offensive.

When the enemy's Tet offensive burst across South Vietnam last year, about half of the South Vietnamese military forces were on leave for the traditional holiday. This time when the lunar new year rolls around all government forces will be on duty at their stations if the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong strike again.

Recent enemy troop movements north of Saigon, in the central highlands and in the far north indicate that something may be brewing, but U.S. officers have expressed confidence they can deal with any new drive.

The Viet Cong has called a lunar new year tense-fire Feb. 15-22. But the allied command is aware that the enemy also called a truce last year, then launched its biggest offensive of the war.

President Nguyen Van Thieu is expected to announce a short Tet truce.

The difficulties the enemy may be having in trying to muster any drive on Saigon were underscored with the announcement that a second big base had been turned up along invasion trails northwest of Saigon.

They reported the camp had 700 yards of fortified bunkers capable of handling perhaps 3,000 troops.

stand in the complicated situation. Though he spoke in veiled terms, this seemed to suggest the army's high brass had rejected overtures from his conservative opponents.

In a speech broadcast by Radio Prague, Dubcek said the Communist principle of a unified party line must be preserved.

As if to press that point he called on all party organizations to get rid of anyone representing "special groups which have their own platforms, distribute leaflets and other materials and disturb the unified action of the party."

Dubcek hints victory for reform regime

PRAGUE (AP) — Alexander Dubcek indicated Wednesday Czechoslovakia's reform leadership has bested orthodox, pro-Soviet Communist forces in a power struggle that centered lately around the fire suicide of Jan Palach.

The liberal Communist party chief, addressing 1,500 high army officers and political workers, announced the Prague regime in recent days overcame "perhaps the most serious crisis" since the Soviet-led military invasion last August.

Dubcek thanked Czechoslovakia's army for "its resolute

Biscuits survive panel test

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some of the four million "survival biscuits" placed in the Capitol basement last month by the state Civil Defense Council were given a taste Wednesday and received a somewhat dry-throated endorsement from the House Appropriations Committee.

Council Director Richard Gerstell, called before the committee to defend the agency's $802,000 budget for the next fiscal year, took the opportunity to complain about criticism of the emergency food supplies.

He indicated at least one newspaper commented editorially that the five-year-old biscuits would probably be hard to chew and unpalatable if they ever were needed.

"The stuff is still good," said Gerstell. "You can try them for yourselves."

As an aide distributed the graham cracker-like biscuits, Gerstell pointed out they were packed in "hermetically sealed tins" and wrapped in waxed paper to keep them fresh, dry, and vermin-free indefinitely.

The newspaper in question, Gerstell said, "has exactly the same kind of biscuits placed in its basement by the federal government for its employees in case of attack."

Negotiation, not confrontation stressed

Nixon pushes nuclear pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, emphasizing a policy of "negotiation rather than confrontation" with the Soviet Union, called Wednesday for prompt Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, emerging from a lengthy conference between Nixon and GOP congressional leaders, said he will lead the move and anticipates no trouble getting the treaty through.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also predicted approval, despite continuing opposition from some senators. Fulbright said his committee will hold two or three days of hearings, starting Feb. 18, and he said the document should reach the Senate floor by the end of this month.

Fulbright said he was particularly pleased with Nixon's emphasis on negotiation rather than confrontation and said "I hope that is his policy and he follows it in as many instances as he can."

The Foreign Relations Committee approved the treaty last year but not in time for Senate action, and Fulbright has insisted that the new Republican administration make its case for ratification.

The committee is expected to call Secretary of State William P. Rogers, Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission, and other officials.

Nixon, who opposed ratification last fall because of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, said the treaty's approval now

"would serve the national interest."

Nixon has been holding high-level discussions on foreign policy and is expected to outline more of his proposals at a news conference this morning. The 11 a.m. EST session will be carried live by major radio and television networks.

On domestic matters, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, reported after the meeting with Nixon that the President plans to ask Congress for electoral and tax law reforms and will propose a number of reorgan-zation plans for the executive department as soon as Congress extends his authority in this field.

Legislators renew fight against YDC construction

Special To The Record
HARRISBURG — Representatives Philip Ruggiero of Bangor and Russell Kowalyszyn of Northampton told a high administration official this week how the state can save $6 million.

The two Democratic representatives told the administration official the money could be saved by not constructing the proposed Youth Development Center.

The Youth Development Center, approved by the administration and the General State Authority, is scheduled to be constructed in Upper Mount Bethel Township.

Citizens opposed

Ruggiero and Kowalyszyn have previously requested Gov. Raymond Shafer to scuttle the proposed construction. The two representatives led the opposition fight in Harrisburg after meeting with a group of citizens from the boroughs of Wind Gap, Pen Argyl, Roseto, Portland and the townships of Upper Mt. Bethel, Lower Mt. Bethel, Washington and Plainfield.

During their meeting with the high administration official Tuesday, the two representatives said "We particularly stressed the point that in a year in which Gov. Shafer was asking for an income tax, he should be looking for a place to save money. And not constructing the center would save the state $6 million."

Kowalyszyn and Ruggiero met with the official to ask the governor to oppose construction of the YDC.

Following the meeting, the representatives said they felt "encouraged" by the reaction to their request.

Philip Ruggiero

Russell Kowalyszyn

"We said that the governor should know that the people of the area are opposed to the construction of the center," Ruggiero and Kowalyszyn said. "and we told him that, in general, new facilities should not be built at a time when other YDC's were being closed because of the large number of vacancies."

Ruggiero and Kowalyszyn said they pointed to the governor's $2.5 billion budget, which said that Cresson and South Philadelphia YDC's have been closed and that the Warrendale institution will be operated at reduced capacity as part of the New Castle center.

The two Northampton County legislators also said the budget noted that the present YDC program would be reduced and children would be placed in foster homes.

Petitions with 4,600 signatures had been collected throughout the State Belt in opposition to the YDC.

The Roseto Borough Council voted unanimously against permitting the YDC to hook-up to its sewage disposal system.

The Bangor Council, however, by a vote of eight to three with one abstention, Monday night decided to tell the General State Authority that the borough sewer plant has the capacity to accept sewage from the YDC. The action was taken at the request of the GSA.

Councilmen who voted against the measure were Larry Krauss, Rex Erdman and John Gascoit. Roderick Everett abstained.

Polk Township names Sherer roadmaster

KRESGEVILLE — Polk Township supervisors appointed Elwood Sherer of Dotter's Corner, Kunkletown R.D. 1 as roadmaster during their regular meeting Monday night in Polk Township Elementary School.

Sherer, 42, is a native of the Kresgeville area and was employed by Percy Green Construction Co. of Dotter's Corner. He replaces Floyd Christman who died Jan. 8. Christman had served on the board of supervisors for 18 years. The roadmaster position pays $2.25 per hour, as approved by the supervisors last month.

The township audit was reported completed on Jan. 13 by auditors Mrs. Fern Serfass.

Mrs. Eugene Ridenouer and Lloyd Miller. Total expenditures and balance was $78,870.50; township general fund, $17,202.31 and State fund, $8,924.21.

Supervisors approved purchase of a second-hand road grader at a maximum cost of $1,400, pending final inspection by supervisors.

Supervisors discussed a possible increase, from one and one-half per cent to two per cent for the tax collector, to be applied only between the "abatement" and the "face" period. The difference in commission would total some $80. No action was taken.

Bills in the amount of $915 were approved for payment for January.

Fuel fund expenses corrected

Record Harrisburg Bureau
HARRISBURG —

Expenditures in the amount of $159.75 from the Lackawanna Township Liquid Fuels Tax Fund Account in 1967 were "non-permissible expenditures" from the fund, State Auditor General Grace M. Sloan reported in an audit of the fund.

She recommended the township reimburse $159.75 to the state fund and that future allocations payable to the township be withheld pending compliance.

The Auditor General listed non-permissible expenditures as "$159.50 for one hep monarch electric lift and $25 for one hep contact finger."

The audit for 1967 showed receipts from the State Motor License Fund of $15,732.39, which coupled with a January 1, 1967, balance of $2,826.46 gave the township a total of $18,558.85. The township spent $14,627.77 from the fund during the year—$7,093.30 in wages, $4,628.35 in materials and $2,906.12 in supplies, thus ending the year with a balance of $3,931.08.

Candidate to run again

ROSETO — Charles C. Angelini has entered the race for mayor of Roseto.

In the 1965 election, Angelini lost the election for the same post by a slim vote. He was winner until the absentee votes were counted.

He is married and the father of two sons. He has served as a justice of the peace, president of the education association of Our Lady of Mount Carmel School vice commander and adjutant of Martocci-Capobianco Post 750, American Legion, and is serving as Democratic committeeman.

Chestnuthill eyes trailer park laws

BRODHEADSVILLE — Chestnuthill Township supervisors will attend a special meeting Tuesday with the township planning commission to discuss trailers and trailer park ordinances.

The request was accepted during the supervisor's regular meeting Monday night.

A request from the planning commission to appoint Robert Chiland, of Effort, to the planning board was tabled.

Other names were submitted by supervisors during the meeting to fill the vacancy of Harold Everett who resigned. The names included, Daniel Paul, Mrs. Margaret McGowan and John Neff.

Supervisors authorized their solicitor, Jerome Cheslock, to contact the secretary of the Pohopline Fish Association of McMichaels to advance the township's "claim" to the rights of the headwaters of McMichaels Creek. The claim would only include "reserving" the water rights for future use by the township.

Floyd Altomose, chairman, said the problem of outside garbage coming into the township's dumping area "must be stopped." Altomose said he knows who has been doing it and authorized the secretary to notify the "dumper" who apparently is bringing in garbage from Pocono Township. Altomose said "our dump is only to be used for Chestnuthill."

Excessive cost of heating the Bee Hive will also be investigated by council. The borough, which pays for the heat, was given a $197 bill for one month of heating. The center is heated by gas fuel.

The Blue Mountain Jaycees presented eight new litter baskets to the borough as part of their program for community improvement.

Approval was granted by council to advertise for a new cinder spreader and a new tar buggy as well as ID-2 oil, coal and asphalt.

In an effort to gain better traffic and safety control, council instructed Mayor William D. Scott to enforce all parking regulations. A public notice will be made informing the public of the strict enforcement starting Feb. 15.

Daniel Phillips of the sewer committee reported a balance of $32,430 in the sewer account and noted several repairs are being made at the plant.

Inger Madsen achieves honor

NEWFOUNDLAND — Miss Inger M. Madsen of Newfoundland R.D. 1, a sophomore at Moravian College, Bethlehem, has been named to the dean's list for the fall term.

Moravian introduced a new curriculum known as 4-1-4 this academic year in which students take four courses in the fall and spring terms and an optional one-course offering in January.

The leadership is drawn from the 23 per cent who were elected from 1935 to 1957, nearly all from the most conservative, safe Republican districts in the country. Undoubtedly, they reflect the thinking of their districts, but more often than not they do not reflect the majority of Republicans in the House nor the majority of Republican voters in the country.

When it is accepted that children have that right to temporary depression, parents will respect it and allow them to "live it through" without making them feel embarrassed or rejected. It is hard to grow up in this complicated age.

Businessmen to combat shoplifting

STROUDSBURG — The Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. announced Tuesday at their monthly meeting that a seminar on shoplifting and ways to prevent it will be presented as part of the March meeting of the association.

The seminar will feature a guest speaker from the Small Business Administration of the U. S. government. The seminar portion of the program will be open to all businessmen of the area.

Further information on the seminar is available through program chairman Charles James, manager of F. W. Woolworth.

Also announced at the meeting were the appointments to the association's committees. Named to the Finance Committee were Robert Entwistle, Jesse Pierson and Morris Jacobson; Membership Committee, Ed. Steinhauer and Harold Jacobs; and Program Committee, Charles James, Don Holmgren and Kenneth Alspach.

Also promotion committee members are Russell Snyder, Charles Edmondson, Foster Mullins, Herbert Rosen, Ron Dresher and James Brennan; Public Relations Committee, Harry Mullins and Charles Edmondson; and Christmas Lights Committee, Phillip Quinn and Chester Miller.

Three new members of the association were introduced at the meeting: Robert Jewell, Jewell Electric; Kenneth Alspach, manager of the Stroudsburg Branch of the East Stroudsburg National Bank; and James Brennan, Brennan's Beauty Salon.

Fraud unmasked

NEW DELHI (AP) — A man who posed as an undersecretary in the Finance Ministry to help land a wife landed in jail instead. His downfall came when the prospective bride's father telephoned the ministry to invite him to tea.

Just Between Us—

By Bobby Westbrook

Admitted, there was a certain nostalgia in the warm welcome which the AAUW members gave the college debating team. After all, a lot of the members date back to the days when the high school debating team had a schedule with surrounding high schools now attained only by sports.

But the younger members enjoyed it to. It was a stimulating and provocative way to present both sides of a current question. Talking against the clock, the comments had to be relevant. Subject to cross questioning they had to be able to back them up. And in rebuttal, verbal sparring can be as exciting as physical sparring.

"I wonder why the classic debate is no longer a varsity sport in high school? And why it wouldn't be an effective substitute for all these college and police 'confrontations' which on television seem to have all the sporting qualities and sensibility of bear baiting?"

If student demands for reform could be crystallized in a, b, and c and administrative problems in meeting those restrictions demands could be equally succinct, they might get somewhere. The very fact of considering the opposing arguments for the purpose of being prepared to refute them would give both sides increased understanding.

Of course you'd have to have a timer armed with a club, and a referee ready with a gag, and have the opposing sides separated by an iron grill, but it might work. Providing, of course, that both sides are really trying to accomplish something besides a pitched battle, which I sometimes doubt.

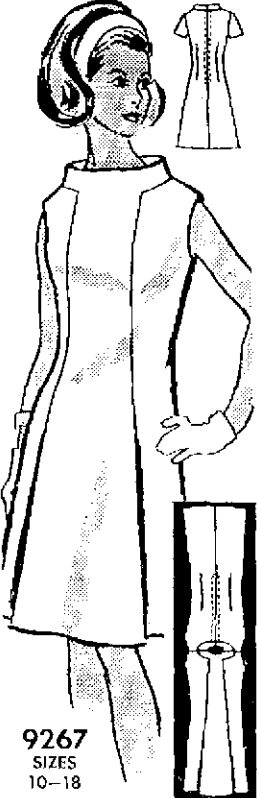

Anyway, it would be an interesting variation on "Resolved: that the Philippines should be granted their independence," which is the last formal debate I had a part in, which is as good a way as any of dating an era.

Mrs. John Earl McConnell
(Arnold's Studio)

Miss Connie I. Kresge weds John McConnell

STRONDSBURG — Miss Connie Irene Kresge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kresge of Stroudsburg, became the bride of John Earl McConnell in the Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Saturday, Jan. 18, at a 6 p.m. candlelight service.

He is the son of Mrs. Laura McConnell and Horace McConnell, Stroudsburg.

Rev. David G. High officiated at the double ring ceremony. The altar flowers were white carnations.

Mrs. Bonnie Michaels was organist and Mrs. Connie Pentz was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white A-line gown of peau de soie with an empire waist, trumpet sleeves of Chantilly lace and an attached Watteau train. Her matching headpiece of lace and seed pearls held French illusion veiling. She carried a prayer book with white roses and carnations.

Miss Colleen McConnell of Stroudsburg was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Bill, Carol Palmer, Bonnie Lambert, Nadine Meixell was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants all wore skimmer gowns of peacock blue velvet with attached satin panel backs. They wore matching peacock blue satin Dior bows on their hair and carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Thomas Lambert served as best man. Ushers were Terry Flory, Robert Palmer and Kenneth Heller with Jamie Kresge as junior usher.

The bride's mother wore a light blue A-line dress with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a cranberry velvet A-line dress trimmed in pink satin with matching shoes and pocketbook and had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Lily Pond Pavilion, Stroudsburg.

The couple left on Sunday for a wedding trip to Washington, D.C. and Williamsburg, Va.

Mrs. McConnell is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and the Stroudsburg School of Cosmetology and is employed at the Malozzi Salon, Stroudsburg.

Her husband is also a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and is employed at the Sherwin-Williams Paint Store, Stroudsburg.

The couple will make their home at 620 King St., Stroudsburg.

College debaters score for University Women

STROUDSBURG — The question of whether or not the control of U. S. foreign policy by the President should be curtailed was debated pro and con in a fast-paced program at the American Assn. of University Women at the Stroud Community House.

Four debaters from East Stroudsburg State College who will compete on a national level in Arizona this spring took opposing sides on this year's topic: "Resolved: That the Executive Controls of U. S. Foreign Policy Should Be Significantly Curtailed."

For the purpose of debate, the students were assigned to one side or the other regardless of their personal opinions. This found two Navy veterans of the Vietnam war, now students at the college, Fred Wilder and James Kanavy, assigned to the affirmative. Taking the negative position were Gail Gravatt and Carrell Santa Maria.

Among the reasons advanced for curtailing the power of the president were that two minds are better than one and that Congress which alone has the power to declare war should have a voice in decisions to escalate or de-escalate military conflicts which in reality are undeclared wars.

They cited the power of one person to arbitrarily escalate the military forces in Vietnam from 500 to 550,000 all without returning to Congress for confirmation. They also warned that one individual also had the power to de-escalate at a rate that might cause economic panic.

Their third point was that matters of such serious consequences should be subject to consideration by representatives of all the people.

In challenging those contentions, the negative side stressed the time factor when a decision, such as that in the Cuban missile crisis, must be immediate. They also challenged the statement that group decisions were better than individual judgments, citing studies in that field.

The affirmative contended that the power of the President is limited by the appropriations which Congress alone can approve and by the available manpower on which a President can call.

In cross questioning and rebuttal, each side brought out other opinions and historical precedents.

Warren Gasink, a member of the speech faculty at the college and coach of the debating team, introduced its members and also sketched in the mechanics of modern debate whose purpose is to put forth the best possible arguments for both sides of the question.

The program was arranged by Mrs. E. Douglas Danfelt.

Dr. Mary Pickard presided at the brief business meeting when members voted to give $300 to the National Fellowship Grants and $100 to the Coretta Scott King educational fund.

Jane Wyman Romano was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Charles Wolbers announced Dance Club sponsored events at the college.

The meeting was followed by Valentine refreshments served by the hostesses of which Mrs. J. L. Cohen was chairman.

Morey PTA schedules Dr. Dunning

STROUDSBURG — Dr. Ruth Dunning will speak on mental health in relation to sex education and inter-personal relations for elementary school children at the meeting of the B.F. Morey Parent Teachers Assn.

The meeting will be held at the Morey School on Monday at 8 p.m. and will be followed by refreshments. All parents are invited.

Savory kraut perks up pork

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here's one of the best ways we know to serve roast pork for family and guests. The meat gets an overlay of seasoning that helps to produce a delicious crisp crust. It also gets an unusually delicious sauerkraut and apple accompaniment, and chances are that kraut fanciers will date on this.

If the tart green apples specified in the recipe aren't at hand, use another variety of cooking apple — one that will hold its shape. You'll need a couple of pounds of large apples to make the amount called for.

Pork Roast
with Savory Kraut and Apples
Center-cut pork loin roast (4½ to 5 pounds — about 10 chops).
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon ground sage

Savory Kraut and Apples, see below.

Choose a pork roast that has an even layer of fat over the top. Have your meatman saw the backbone almost entirely free of rib side of meat; the should also saw through rib bones at bottom and tie the roast.

Score the fat by cutting it (about ½ inch down) in crisscross diagonal lines to make a diamond design.

Garden Club

TANNERSVILLE — The Pocono Garden Club will meet on Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 2 p.m. at the firehouse in Tannersville. Arrangements will be keyed to the club's 33rd anniversary.

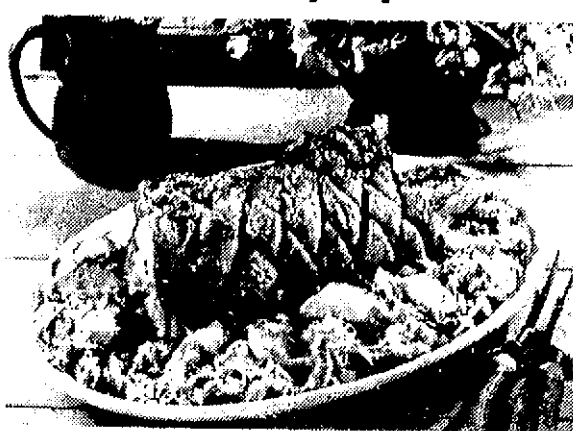

Place fat side up, in a shallow roasting pan. Stir together salt, mustard, flour and sage; sprinkle over top and sides of pork. Roast in a preheated 325-degree oven until meat thermometer registers 170 degrees — about 35 minutes to the pound.

Cut strings and pull out; cut away backbone. Place pork on a heated platter and serve with Savory Kraut and Apples. Makes 10 servings.

Savory Kraut and Apples
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sliced onions
2 cups grated (medium-fine) carrot, lightly packed
1-3 cup chopped parsley
1 can (1 pound, 11 ounces) sauerkraut, undrained
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 quarts pared and cored tart green apples, sliced in eighths
½ cup sugar
½ cup water
2-3 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
½ cup butter, melted and cooled
2 teaspoons dry mustard

In a large saucepot over moderately low heat, melt the ½ cup butter; add onions, carrot and parsley; cook, stirring often, until tender-crisp — about 10 minutes. Stir in kraut, thyme, salt and pepper. Simmer, covered, for 30 minutes. Arrange in shallow 2-quart ovenproof glass baking dish (11½ by 7½ by 1½ inches) or similar utensil; set aside.

Meanwhile, in a large saucepot, simmer apples with ½ cup sugar and water, stirring carefully once or twice, until barely tender — about 10 minutes. With a slotted spoon (to drain from juice) arrange apples on top of kraut. Mix together brown sugar, ½ cup butter and mustard. Spoon over apples. Broil fairly close to high heat until sugar melts. Serve with roast pork.

Opening lead — three of hearts.

Courage is undoubtedly a valuable quality, but where courage ends and imprudence begins is a matter each person must judge for himself.

You can't say East lacked either fortitude or imagination when he doubled four spades on this hand. Certainly he did not have the four tricks his double implied, yet his double was not as crazy as it appears.

East thought his double would be interpreted by West as lead-directing. He reasoned that if West had a trick the contract would be defeated with a club lead.

He would ruff the club, put West back on lead for another ruff, and defeat the contract with his ace of hearts. In fact, that is probably what would have happened had West led a club. East would have ruffed, led the ace and another heart, and gotten another ruff.

But East's logic did not get through to West. He failed to read the double as lead-directing. He opened a low heart which East won with the ace. East returned a heart to the king and now, at last, West caught on and led the nine of clubs.

Afraid that this was a singleton, declarer went up with the ace — only to have it ruffed. East returned a trump and declarer, now completely confused by the double, finessed. West won with the queen and led the king and another club to put South down 1,000.

Of course, South would have fared much better had he finessed the club at trick three instead of cising with the ace. So much so, that, by later guessing the trump position, he would have been 2,830 points better off. He would have finished 1,230 plus instead of 1,600 minus.

Did East make a bad double? Did West make a bad lead? It all depends on how you look at these things. If you go only by results, East-West played perfectly.

Woman's salvage idea saves U.S. $10 million yearly

The Pocono Record, The Stroudsburg, Pa. — Thurs., Feb. 6, 1969

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A woman who took a summer job with the Navy and stayed 26 years is saving the government $10 million every year.

Rose Haggerty's idea earned her $1,500 — biggest amount for a successful suggestion ever paid to a woman employee at the Naval Aviation Supply Office here.

It was a pip — and why didn't some male mechanic think of it?

Mrs. Haggerty, now an aeronautical equipment specialist, told Navy brass that unserviceable aircraft engines should be disassembled for their serviceable spare parts.

The reclamation program saves a pile of dough previously spent annually for stockpiling expensive parts.

"I was doing my job, not trying to do anything special," she said.

"Almost any aircraft engine is composed of about 5,000 parts. I had to decide which ones to save and what could be done to bring them up to configuration. The Navy wants to save money but when it comes to a safety factor, we don't cut corners."

The Naval depot, which occupies about 135 acres in Northeast Philadelphia, maintains an inventory of 400,000 items valued at more than 2.5 billion dollars.

Mrs. Haggerty came to work after graduation from a Pennsylvania teachers college.

"I'm glad I was sidetracked into this job," she said. "I think I wouldn't be able to tolerate the nonsense going on today in the schools."

PEOPLE: Raymond S. Elliott, president of the First Federal Savings of Pottstown, says

a new federal law that requires banks to install remote controlled hidden cameras by the start of 1970 will improve security against holdups.

Samuel Russell Cosby, a Philadelphia painter, is the brother that television-movie star Bill Cosby made famous in his popular comedy recording, "Russell, my brother." Says Russell, who is five years younger: "As a kid I was scared of Bill. When he'd make me come home to help Mom, I thought he was the meanest man in town. Now I think he's the kindest person in the world."

Your Horoscope By Francis Drake

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Keep all things "in line," but avoid anxiety or worrisome anticipation of trouble. Conflict of interests in certain areas? You should enjoy the challenge.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Don't enter activities in which you are not particularly interested just because someone else wants to. There are some suggestions you should reject. View all with an eye to the future.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — You may not progress as rapidly as you wish, may receive fewer gains than you expected. But keep at it—with patience—and you will achieve much.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You may overreach your mark now because of anxiety or misjudgment. Try to avoid this by taking things in stride and, in all things, follow well-tested procedures. Don't be unduly suspicious of others.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Good solar influences. Plan a well-balanced program and be thoughtful in making decisions. Weigh all offerings astutely. Especially favored: Technical and scientific projects.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — You may encounter some baffling, even irritating situations. Regard them as part of the overall pattern and reflect carefully before jumping to conclusions.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Don't overlook definite obligations because of a desire to "try something new." Emphasize the Libra's innate stability.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Don't wait too long before attacking a problem or handling an assignment, or day's end will find you in a state of "nerves," trying to offset your procrastination. Maintain an even pace and you will accomplish more in the long run.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — Put fervor and ardent ambition into this fine day, and stress optimism. That is often all that is needed to insure success. Better than average opportunities. Look about.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Wait for cues before launching any project. If not on guard, you could get into difficult situations or needless complications. That is the type of day that sends non-thinkers off on unprofitable tangents.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Stress your foresightedness now in order to prevent witless errors. Don't leap at ideas or suggestions made by those who can misguide through a pleasing manner. February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A day in which to spread your wings a bit—if time and obligation permit. Staying in a rut never helped anyone.

YOU BORN TODAY: Here are found strong intellectual leanings and the ability to make ordinary circumstances turn into golden opportunities for gain. You can go it alone, or join amicably with others, and you like working with people who do things brightly, concisely, and with little fuss. You can rise with so little fanfare, you often surprise others with your successes. Your logic and concentration are outstanding. ## Firemen to attend Hallet viewing

STROUDSBURG — The Stroud Township Fire Department will attend the viewing of the late George M. Hallet, Stroud Township Supervisor, at Lanterman's Funeral Home, East Stroudsburg, at 7:45 p.m. today.

Innovations may be used

E.S. school officials view new method

EAST STROUDSBURG — East Stroudsburg Area School District administrators saw a host of valuable instructional innovations during their recent visit to the Cumberland Valley School District, Harrisburg.

According to administrative assistant Cummings A. Platt, the Cumberland School District innovations will be evaluated by the East Stroudsburg administrative staff.

At a future date, some of these innovations will no doubt be incorporated into East Stroudsburg's instructional program, Platt said.

Platt and other East Stroudsburg school administrators were particularly impressed with Cumberland's Instructional Materials Center program.

An Instructional Materials Center serves as the heart of today's brand new baby in education, the Middle School. The IMC is not only a library and visual aids center, it also offers students privacy for concentration in carrels, which are large tables partitioned into four quarters with head high dividers.

Platt said one of the most interesting innovations in the Cumberland IMC was a sunken circle in the library in which light reading material predominated, thus stimulating and encouraging students to increase their reading habits.

In Cumberland's elementary school Platt saw kindergarten and first graders making versatile use of colored cushions. Some of the students sat on these cushions with a book propped in their lap while others lay on their stomachs, their elbows on the cushions with the book in front of them, Platt said.

E.S. students in district orchestra

EAST STROUDSBURG — Three students from East Stroudsburg High School have been selected to represent the school at the Northeastern District Orchestra of the Pennsylvania Music Educator's Assn.

The three students selected are Barbara McMahon, first flute; Dawn Merring, first clarinet and Barbara Jo Lantz, first bassoon. They were selected on the basis of their performance at competitive auditions held last fall.

Keith Brown, director of instrumental music activities at Temple University, will conduct the select group of high school musicians. The orchestra festival will be held at Dallas Senior High School in Dallas today, Friday and Saturday.

A public concert will be given on Saturday night to end the festival.

The IMC also included soundproof rooms with glass fronts in which students for seminar purposes or group study work could listen to a tape recorder, view a film strip or spark a discussion while seated in leather lounge chairs.

The Cumberland elementary school is based on the "open concept" in which there were very few inner walls with the accent on space providing mobility for staff and students alike.

Cumberland's Middle School has movable partitions between classrooms, so that individual instruction or group instruction could be offered within the same area.

The senior high school and the middle school at Cumberland have closed circuit television which is student oriented, Platt said.

Cumberland has no bells, and its modular schedule is based on 17, twenty minute classes a day which allows for both flexibility and control.

Platt said that a new course, Introductory Physical Science, which started at East Stroudsburg high for ninth grade students in September, was the first move towards independent science program.

Two-and-one-half days of in-service programs at East Stroudsburg High School are scheduled in February and March. The in-service days will highlight an evaluation of the school's instructional programs with departmental meetings composed of teachers. The in-service programs will be teacher-oriented.

East Stroudsburg school administrative staff members will attend the American Association of Secondary School Administrators' Convention in Atlantic City, N.J., from Feb. 16 to 19.

E.E. George's services held

KRESGEVILLE — Funeral services for Elias E. George of Kunkletown R. D. 2, were held Tuesday in Kresge Funeral Home, Brodheadville, with the Rev. David Burg officiating.

Burial was in McMichael's Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Harry Green, Eugene Strohl, Adam Strohl, Howard Bollinger, Eugene George and Russell Bobst.

Funeral Notices

LEARN, Mrs. Leora M., 121 Ransberry Ave., Feb. 2, 1969. Funeral services will be Thursday, Feb. 6, 1969 at 2 p.m. from the Daniel G. Warner Funeral Home, Interment in the Stroudsburg Cemetery.

WARNER

HALLT, George M., Stroud Township Feb. 4, 1969 age 86. ## MAMAC names director

Albert Pomory, a teacher with extensive business experience, was named Wednesday as the executive director of the Mid Atlantic Music and Arts Center (MAMAC) which is located at Onawa Lodge in Mountainhome, Pennsylvania.

Pomory is expected to assume his new duties next Monday.

The MAMAC conducted a six weeks summer music school in 1968, an integral part of which was the Pocono Music Festival. The Pocono Music Festival consisted of 25 concerts featuring such solo artists as Jose Iturbi and such renowned ensembles as the Curtis String Quartet.

Married and the father of a six year old son, Pomory has been associated with the Lancaster Board of Education in the fields of mathematics, physics and guidance. From 1963 through 1967 he was President of the Douglas Leasing Company with offices in Philadelphia.

Pomory received his B.S. degree in education from Towson State College, in Maryland in 1964, has done graduate work at Western Maryland University, Millersville State College and Franklin and Marshall College and was awarded a grant from the National Science Foundation for graduate studies in advanced mathematics.

Pomory is expected to announce appointments to the faculty, and initiate an intensive student recruitment drive for the 1969 season shortly after February 10.

Persons interested in enrolling students at MAMAC for the 1969 season, or in having Pomory speak to a civic, service or cultural group, should call him at 717-595-2520 or write him at Onawa Lodge.

Car kills boy, seven, on sleigh

NEWTON, N. J. — A seven-year-old Blairtown R. D., N. J., boy was killed by a car Wednesday night and the man who was driving the car is in Warren County Jail facing a series of charges.

Daniel M. McKeever was dead on arrival at Newton Hospital at 4:45 p.m.

The youth was sleigh riding when he was struck by a car driven by Teddy H. Walden, 21, of Belvidere R.D., who left the scene after hitting the boy.

State Police at Blairtown said Walden was traveling north on Locust Lake Road when the accident occurred.

Walden was placed in jail on a death by auto charge and will be arraigned today.

He will also be charged with careless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, failure to report an accident, driving an unregistered vehicle, fictitious license plates, and driving while being on the revoked license list.

Tri-county MH/MR directors approve $460,375 budget

STROUDSBURG — Members of the Carbon-Monroe-Pike Counties Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board deliberated for more than three hours Wednesday night and then approved the final draft of its 1969-70 budget 1969-70 of $460,375.

The draft will be submitted for final approval by the county commissioners of the three counties. Upon their approval it will be submitted to the state regional coordinator of the MH-MR program for review then to the Department of Public Welfare.

The plan had been brought before public hearings in the three counties. Minor changes were required and made last night but changes in costs did not affect the cost sharing of the three counties as was set prior to the hearings.

The budget will cover cost of administering and providing nine basic services as required by the State for the period July 1, 1969 to June 30, 1970.

Maximum amount of the State grant of 90 per cent totals $427,964. The counties' shares would be: Carbon, $16,205.50; Monroe, $12,954.40 and Pike, $3,241.10.

A general breakdown includes the following: A total $57,654 general administrative cost, including the administrator, an "administrator officer one" (Civil Service Class), an information and referral counselor and two secretaries.

A total $55,653 the total cost of the "base service unit" which will include part-time psychiatrist, pediatrician and neurologist and full time psychologist.

A total — $148,767 is the total cost of services which are eligible for 100 per cent financing and includes short-term inpatient service, partial hospitalization and interim care of mentally retarded.

A total $310,218 total cost of patient services other than provided by the base service unit and includes cost for outpatient, aftercare, rehabilitation, training, drugs, supplementary services, preventive programs, consultation and education and emergency services.

Thomas Foley, administrator, told the board he expects some kind of answer from the State upon receipt of the plan explaining the provisions of the "Base Service Unit."

Until now it was not made clear by the state how this should be interpreted.

According to the services for which the BSU is responsible under the state regulations, the Mental Health Center at the General Hospital is not sufficiently staffed nor does it have the facilities to carry out the BSU functions, Foley explained.

According to regulations, the BSU is to be part of the staff of the Administrator. Under the program submitted by the board, provisions have been made to contract these services from the mental health center.

Patient services to date have been limited to services available at the Center. Personnel is not available to send to Carbon or Pike counties on a part time basis. In order for the Center to provide the minimum functions, additional staff is needed. The hospital is currently applying for a growth grant, Foley explained.

Foley made a comparison with a mental health complex in Brooklyn which serves an area of 101,000 population with 200 staff personnel while the MHC at the General Hospital currently has 30 staff members which is supposed to support the three counties totaling 119,000 population.

Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler

State board to honor Dr. Koehler

EAST STROUDSBURG — Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president emeritus of East Stroudsburg State College, will be honored during a special dinner of the State College's Board of Presidents today.

To be held in the Blue and Gold room of the Holiday Inn, Harrisburg, with all the presidents of the state colleges in attendance, the dinner meeting will honor Dr. Koehler for his services to the students, the college, and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Prior to his retirement in 1968, Dr. Koehler contributed more than forty-six years of service, twelve of which were served as president, to the local college.

Since his retirement last spring, Dr. Koehler said that he has been busy "working in his home in Stroudsburg making plans to spend the summer at his cottage in Canada."

Junior firemen meet today

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Junior Firemen of Acme Hose Co., East Stroudsburg, will meet today at 7 p.m. in the firehouse for the organizational meeting.

Men between the ages of 16 and 21 are invited to join this organization and learn the techniques in fire prevention, fire fighting, rescue, and the use of special equipment used by firemen.

To many who fancy themselves ardent followers of fictional history, Mark Twain's Tom Sawyer has long stood as second to none in the art of whitewashing, be it fences or the discoloration of inconsequential and seemingly harmless truths.

Unfortunately, poor Tom has been surpassed in all manner and form of whitewashing. This no mean feat has been accomplished by three Stroudsburg borough officials.

The three members of the Stroudsburg Zoning Board of Adjustment, David H. Warrick, Sumner Bossler Jr. and Walter Peeney Jr., have apparently extorted themselves from what could, and may still be, an unpleasant and embarrassing situation.

Their fancy footwork would have a Fred Astaire or Gene Kelly green with envy.

Their show was presented at what was called a public hearing concerning the appeal of one John Valence, president of the Eighteen N. Seventh Street, Inc., against the issuance of a building permit

County fire official plans to oppose sprinkling law

By JIM SHAFER

Pocono Record Reporter
STROUDSBURG — "The idea of making it a law to place sprinklers in fire resistance buildings is not practical," Nelson Lightner, former Stroudsburg fire chief and now president of Monroe County Firemen's Association, said Wednesday night.

Lightner has volunteered to represent the Monroe County commissioners — and they have accepted. He will go to Harrisburg Feb. 14 and speak at a public hearing against the legislation which would make it mandatory to install sprinklers in all nursing homes.

"It is not good judgment to make this mandatory where the building is fire resistant. I will go along with the legislation if it is worded in a manner that excludes fire resistant buildings now standing. If they (the legislators) want to make it mandatory for new buildings I'll have to have more time to study that," Lightner added.

The bill is aimed at the person who moves into an area, starts a nursing home, and then operates until state authorities begin to make inspections and then require the operator to meet standards or close, Lightner said.

Lightner said he was going to Harrisburg to speak only about sprinklers and not about costs or estimated costs.

He did say that he thought the commissioner's estimate for sprinklers at Pleasant Valley Manor was low. It has been estimated that a sprinkling system for the manor would cost $100,000.

"At a place like the county home, a reservoir, something like the water tank at Ronson, would have to be constructed. I have no idea what the cost for that might be, but it would no doubt be high," Lightner said.

"As for a sprinkler system," he continued, "it acts as a silent fireman, in as much as that once the heat reaches a point it will melt the 'head' and activate the sprinkler. The water then will aid in keeping down the fire."

"But if it is a big fire and many heads are melted the water pressure decreases and there is a possibility of only a small amount of water coming from the sprinkler."

"In the Stroudsburg Fire Department, it is a general order that firemen arriving at a building equipped with a sprinkler system that the first hose connection is made to the outside connection of the sprinkler system."

"After we (the firemen) have made this connection, water is then pumped into the building's system to augment the borough water supply."

"At the head on each position in the sprinkler system there should be at least 25 pounds pressure and as each head goes into operation the pressure drops. This is why firemen will connect to the outside connection first," Lightner added.

An example of a sprinkler system and lack of water pressure is the High Point Inn fire. The building had a system but did not have sufficient water pressure.

Another fire chief opposed to the bill is George Kitchen, Blue Mountain Hook and Ladder Fire Co., Saylorsburg. It is in his jurisdiction that the county home is located.

Kitchen noted that there are employees in the building 24 hours a day and that should a fire erupt much could be done by employees until firemen arrived.

Kitchen, Lightner and Acme Hose Co. Fire Chief Robert

Lesoine of East Stroudsburg, agreed that heat sensitive devices located in a building such as the manor would be of more value than a sprinkler system.

All the chiefs agree that if sprinklers were installed in these buildings and should a fire break out there is a possibility that the shock to the elderly patients would be great and that possible heart attacks might come from the sudden shock of the water from the sprinklers and the fire.

"In most of these buildings, patients or guests would be in more danger of serious injury from smoke inhalation than they would be from the fire," Lightner noted.

He also said that the lowest setting available for the sprinkler head is 135 degrees. He also pointed out that in the General Hospital of Monroe County, East Stroudsburg, the only part of that structure with sprinklers is the old section and then only on the first floor.

"The building is fire resistant so what necessity is there for installing a sprinkler system," he concluded.

Warrick refuses new term on S-burg zoning board

STROUDSBURG — Stroudsburg Borough Council Wednesday rescinded action taken at its Jan. 8 meeting reappointing David H. Warrick to the borough's Zoning Board of Adjustment and tabled appointing a successor to Warrick.

After council stated that Warrick declined reappointment because of age it urged a letter of commendation be written to Warrick complimenting him for his services.

It was revealed that Warrick was in his eighties.

The Zoning board is in the midst of controversy over granting variances without holding public hearings. The other two members of the board are Walter Peeney Jr. and Sumner Bossler Jr.

Council gave tentative approval to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways recommendations for updating traffic signal installation at 5th and Main Sts.

Borough manager Harold Snyder said that traffic coming off the Fifth Street bridge and turning left on Ann St. will be provided with a seven second start over traffic coming in the opposite direction from Fifth Street.

Recommendations also included push button wall signals on each side of Fifth Street and overhead signs on Fifth to mark traffic lanes.

Mayor Joseph Small again urged that Main St. be made a one-way from Ninth St. to the Interborough Bridge.

Council granted a request from the Zion United Church of Christ, North Eighth St. for permission to cut a section of curb on North Eighth St. The church wants to construct a ramp for a proposed driveway and parking area between the church and the church parsonage. The proposed driveway will require the removal of a parking meter.

The Pennsylvania Department of Health advised council of a discussion of solid waste storage and disposal practices in the two sister boroughs and Stroud Township to be held in the council room on Feb. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

Borough manager Harold Snyder urged a uniform burning ordinance for the two boroughs and Stroud Township. He said some residents were burning garbage instead of trash.

and variance to the Attorneys Bousinger.

For reasons which have been rebuffed in the media, Valence claimed the issuance of the permit and variance was illegal and unconstitutional in that the borough's zoning ordinance was not followed by the board.

It has since been made a matter of public record that no less than eight times has the board failed to follow the borough zoning ordinance in the issuance of permits and variances.

Not one public hearing was called in the eight instances and not one public notification was made concerning the receipt of the permit applications.

It is interesting to note that none of the members of the board have been willing to make a public statement concerning the revelations of their actions.

To date, not one word of justification, explanation or apology has been heard to be uttered by the board members.

Their conduct at the public hearing was both astonishing and indicative of their stand on past performance.

The only time any of the members spoke was to have their names and middle initials correctly recorded on the minutes by the stenographer at the outset of the meeting.

Their exhibition of common courtesy was such that not even the many interested persons in attendance were thanked for coming to the meeting.

Not once did the members of the board ask if anyone in attendance wished to make a statement or ask any questions of the board itself. A very interesting procedure to omit at a public hearing.

The hearing was approximately 20 minutes in length.

It appears that only through the grace of the two attorneys representing Valence and the Bousingers with the situation be resolved with an agreeable solution to all parties involved.

The board clearly indicates that it will make no effort to help the situation or to attempt to clear the air of its past actions.

In all, the Stroudsburg Zoning Board of Adjustment, through its actions, gives the people something to think about. And worry about. And perhaps supply the initiative to do something about it.

Former Yankee infield star finds religion in baseball

By PETE GRADY

Pocono Record Reporter
HENRYVILLE — Bobby Richardson handled the hot circuit in 1,450 games as second baseman for the New York Yankees from 1955 to 1966. Now he's a circuit rider for God.

Like the pioneer circuit rider preachers who traveled on horseback from one circuit church to another, Bobby jets here and there across the nation to win young boys over to Christ.

As a national representative to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Bobby and other sports stars spell out Christianity to America's youth with the ARCs of good clean living on and off the playing fields of sport.

Wednesday Bobby and his wife Betsy were enjoying a much delayed honeymoon—13 years, to be exact—ins guests of Walley Huffman, owner and operator of Birchwood Lodge and Cottages.

A Yankee scout since his retirement in 1966 Richardson shares his duties to God and baseball by visiting Yankee farm teams, showing city boys how to throw a ball instead of a rock and training infielders at the Yankees' all minor league club's base in Hollywood, Fla.

The 33-year-old ex-Yankee whose biggest thrill was being voted runner-up to Mickey Vernon as the Most Valuable Player in 1962 said the Yankees could be pennant contenders this season.

"When the Yankees were sold to the Columbia Broadcasting System, the farm system wasn't too good. But now we're going all out for youth in our farm system," Richardson said. Bobby hails from Sumpter, South Carolina, where hunters shoot deer with shotguns instead of rifles because the land is too flat. When asked who is babysitting with his three boys and two girls, Bobby said his brood was in the able hands of a couple who run a local boy's school in which Bobby is one of the board of directors.

record for most runs batted in during a World Series, 12 against Pittsburgh in 1960, added a new dimension to the famous "harmonica incident" which involved utility infielder Phil Linz and Yankee manager "Yogi" Berra.

"The Yankees started badly in 1961," Bobby said. "It was Yogi's first year as manager and he was in a tough position. If he won, the sports writers would have said who couldn't win with that bullpen? And Yogi knew what would happen to him if he lost."

On the night before a four game series with the Chicago White Sox, a Yankee pitcher bought some harmonicas. Bobby said. He and Tony Kubek who had been his roommate for 10 years started a song fest. The pitcher joined them with his harmonica. Other players showed up with harmonicas.

The next day we heard all about those drunks singing all night long, said Richardson, a teetotaler.

"Then we went out and played four games with Chicago and lost them all," Bobby said.

After the series, the Yankees lost no time in getting on the bus that took them to the airport. "Linz took out his harmonica and started playing it," Bobby said. "Yogi told him to put it back in his pocket, only he didn't exactly use that terminology. Phil turned to Mantle and asked him what Yogi had said."

"Mantle told Phil that Yogi had said it was alright for him to keep on playing. Linz started again and this time he got so mad at what Yogi was yelling back at him that he threw the harmonica down the aisle."

"The harmonica hit Joe Pepitone in the ankle and Pepitone yelled for the Yankee trainer."

Richardson looking into the present and future of baseball said that the season is too long and that total season games should be cut down from 162 to about 140.

"This would give the hitters a chance to rest between games so that the pitchers don't dominate the game," Richardson said.

Richardson also recommended that American and National League teams play a certain number of games between each other and that these games count as regular games played.

Last year the Cardinal's Lou Brock tied Bobby's record of 13 hits in a World Series.

Maybe some player this year will break his other record. But it won't make any difference to Bobby. It's not so much win or lose with him, it's how you play the game.

Cardinal grapplers drop East Stroudsburg, 30-16

EAST STROUDSBURG — The Cardinals of Pocono Mountain High School came down from the mountain to hand the East Stroudsburg High wrestlers the seventh loss of the season Wednesday night, 30-16.

East Stroudsburg opened the match with win from Ed Bak in the 98 pound class over Paul Drury. The Cardinals then came back with decisions win by Paul Johnson and Pete Wash in the 106 and 114 classes.

Skip Foster then recorded the first pin of the night as he put the Cavaliers Wade Snyder down at 5:01 of their 123 pound bout.

East Stroudsburg's Tom Bazik then brought the Cavaliers within three points of tying the match up when he pinned PM's Dave Machtyre at 3:47.

However, the Cardinals bounced back to win in the next three weight classes, two by virtue of pins from Gary Stiff at 136 pounds and Steve Wicks at 148 pounds.

Bill LaBar of East Stroudsburg went on to pin Perry Fullmer at 4:41 in their clash at 157 pounds and Rick Roth was the final winner for East Stroudsburg as he decided Bob Reinhardt in a dual of the heavyweights.

Other Cardinal winners were Scott Rinker over Rick Nicklaus at 108 and John Nauman over Cavaliers' Bob Jones in the 183 lb. bout.

Madden promises Lamonica won't be traded for O.J.

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Burly John Madden began his new career as head coach of the Oakland Raiders Wednesday by vowing he wouldn't trade quarterback Daryle Lamonica for O. J. Simpson.

Madden obviously is pleased with the former Notre Dame star. Besides, no one has proposed a trade for the Heisman Trophy winner who was the number one draft selection of the Buffalo Bills.

The only connection between the Raiders and Bills of the American Football League is John Rauch. He quit the Oakland team two weeks ago to become head coach of the Bills. Madden, linebacker coach under Rauch for two seasons, was elevated Tuesday by the Raiders' managing general partner, Al Davis. At 33, Madden became the youngest head coach in pro football.

"He has a great ability to communicate with the players and to teach men as well as an intense dedication to football," declared Davis in introducing Madden at his first news conference. Davis and Madden then pledge they would work together.

It was no secret before the Raiders won their second straight AFL Western Division crown last season that Rauch and Davis weren't seeing eye-to-eye. Davis served as coach for three years prior to Rauch's appointment.

Under Davis, the general manager makes overall club policies and the coach makes decisions once the game gets underway.

When it comes to play calling, however, Madden plans to rely on Lamonica and the club's other quarterbacks except in unusual circumstances. The former Philadelphia Eagles tackle said signal calling from the bench results in a relaxed quarterback who cannot concentrate.

"We have a good football team now but we can't stay where we are," Madden said. "Other teams are improving and if we stay where we are, we will soon be in the middle of the pack."

Madden said his first item of business would be the hiring of two assistants — replacements for himself and defensive backfield coach Charley Sumner who resigned last month. He said the Raiders' other four assistants had agreed to stay with the team.

Cheyney St. ranked 10th by coaches

NEW YORK (UPI)—Free-wheeling Nevada Las Vegas, a team which wins by keeping the ball in the air and Ashland, an outfit which likes to take the air out of the ball, are making strong moves to overtake Kentucky Wesleyan in the race for small college basketball supremacy.

The high-scoring Rebels and the point-stung Eagles continued their challenging roles in the latest weekly United Press International small college ratings by gaining ground on the slipping Panthers.

Kentucky Wesleyan, the season-long leader in the ratings, retained the No. 1 position but the Panthers saw their margin cut to only three points by the surging Nevadaans.

Nevada Las Vegas, garnering 14 first place votes, tallied 274 points to retain the No. 2 ranking while Ashland, with five first place votes, remained in third place with 243 points.

The only changes in the ninth weekly balloting involved the eighth, ninth and 10th place teams. The four through seven positions remained the same as a week ago.

Puget Sound moved up one spot to eighth place, Fairmont State advanced one position to ninth and Cheyney State, eighth a week ago slipped to 10th.

County honors Roy Campanella

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI)—County Executive Edwin G. Michaelson has proclaimed Tuesday, Feb. 11 as "Roy Campanella Day" in Westchester County to honor the former major league catcher recently elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame.

The county executive will present "the key to Westchester County" to Campanella at a public ceremony in his honor at 4 p.m. Feb. 11 at the County Center Building in White Plains.

Richards to jog cross country

EAST STROUDSBURG — On June 1, Bob Richards, former Olympic champion will leave Los Angeles, Calif., on a journey which will see him cover some 3,300 miles across the country to his final destination in New York City.

It is possible to cross this distance in about seven hours by jet. However, Richards will take over two months to make the trip.

It will take him this long because he will be jogging and cycling every single mile.

Watching carefully, the progress made by Richards throughout the Bob Richards Fitness Crusade will be a very interested East Stroudsburg State College department head.

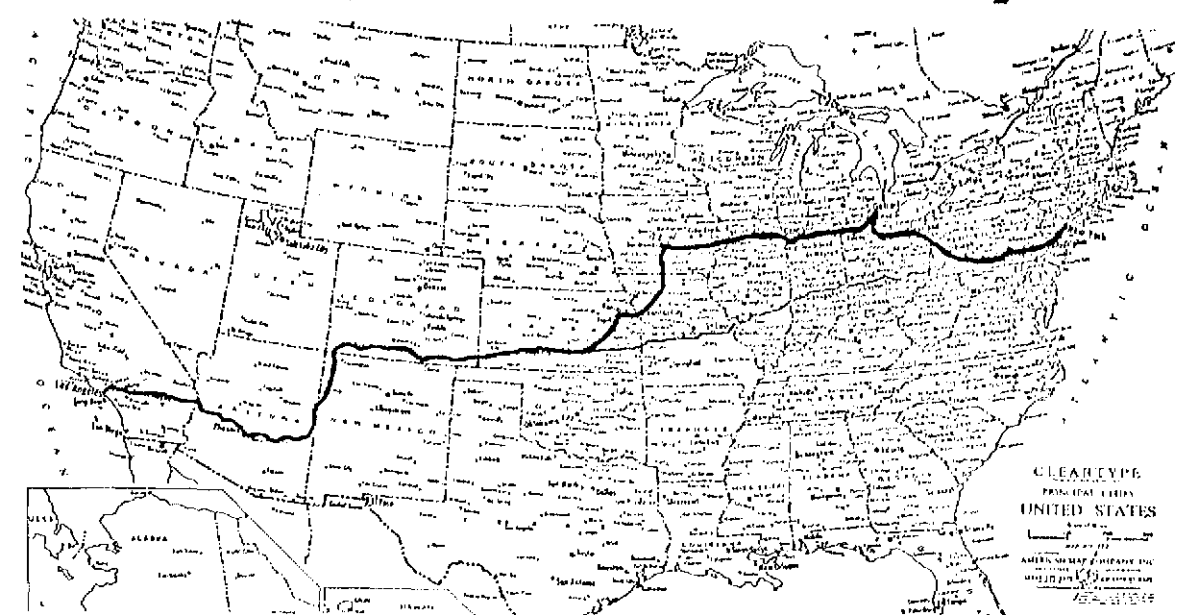

Arne Olson, director of Health and Physical Education at ESSC, will be watching Richards both as a fellow exponent of the importance of jogging and as a board member of an organization which is helping to back Richards.

Olson is a board member of the National Jogging Association, Washington, D.C. The NJA is behind Richards' crusade because of one goal:

To see the health and physical fitness goals America raised to a new life.

Olson, 38, said he tries to jog at least one mile every day. However, because of recent surgery, he said he is not as active as he would be under normal circumstances.

He views jogging "as one of

Bob Richards will jog his way from Los Angeles to Phoenix, Kansas City to Des Moines, Chicago to Detroit, Cleveland to Pittsburgh, Harrisburg to Philadelphia to New York as he sets out on his jogging and cycling trip which will begin June 1 and end sometime in early August.

the real good ways of improving adult and children's hearts' and lungs, as well as general body functions." Jogging is not a cure-all that will solve all the problems of health, but it will be useful, he said.

In commenting on the average American's attitudes and outlooks, Olson said, "Most of us are lacking in the physical drive and other kinds of drive.

Of course, there are notable exceptions. And most of us, myself included, are quite lacking in physiological functions. This is improved through hard work."

Along with being a tremendous help in improving a person's health, Olson maintains that jogging can be an excellent family activity.

Olson said that jogging can be a very helpful activity in aiding a person to look on the positive sides of health and life in general.

This is how he views the Richards' Crusade: Olson believes that Richards will be able to alert the people through his own set their minds on certain goals.

Olson breaks down the act of jogging into four important parts. The most important thing is to get medical clearance from your family physician.

The second phase is to start slowly and make jogging fun and enjoyable. The third step is to stay with it as the going gets harder.

The fourth step is as the time goes on, to make self evaluations of the changes occurring in your mental and physical performances.

No strike for baseball, predicts commissioner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bowling Kuhn, baseball's new pro tem commissioner, arrived in New York Wednesday to assume the monumental task of setting the sport's house in order.

The new commissioner's biggest problem at the moment is the threatened strike by players, who want more money for their pensions than the $1 million proposed by club owners.

"I believe spring training will start in two weeks as scheduled," said the tall commissioner who describes himself as "6-foot-5 and a little bit."

"I firmly believe the parties involved are disposed to settle the strike and when that kind of disposition is involved, you can readily anticipate a settlement."

Kuhn termed "unfortunate" a statement attributed to Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association that he (Kuhn) was "the biggest obstacle" in the negotiations between club owners and players.

"I don't think I've been an obstacle," said Kuhn. "I have represented the views of the clubs in my capacity as representative of the clubs. I was not supposed to express my separate view."

The commissioner said his first order of business upon arrival was "to call Marvin and thank him for the kind telegram of congratulations he sent," and added "we'll be getting together in the near future to work this thing out."

He emphatically denied being the hand-picked choice of one or two of the owners. "I'm proud to say I was chosen by all the owners, chosen unanimously."

Russell starts work outs

BOSTON (UPI)—Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics began working out Wednesday on a series of exercises to strengthen both his injured right knee and his powerful shoulders.

A team spokesman said the 6-foot-10 player-coach of the defending National Basketball Association champions still had a "little puffiness" around the knee which he injured Sunday in a televised one-point loss to New York.

"But he's much more ambulatory," he added. "Russ is also sleeping the best he slept in 10 years." Dr. Thomas Silva, team physician, has kept a strict "no visitors" rule on Russell's room at University Hospital, with only his wife allowed to see him.

not by just one or two," said the new commissioner.

Kuhn said he didn't think baseball was in trouble. "Baseball needs a period of self searching and introspection to continue to receive public support in the quantity it deserves," said Kuhn. "We're also going to seek a happier off the field relationship and emphasize the one major league structure."

He explained the surprising "pro-tem" tag added to his title by saying: "the one-year term was added because we feel baseball can be thoroughly examined and restructured in that time. When the year is over they can examine the situation and see who can fill the post best."

Kuhn was a surprising choice late Tuesday afternoon for the commissioner's post. He had been the National League's representative for negotiations between the club owners and players and has served as legal counsel for the league for a number of years.

Barry keeps ABA scoring leadership

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Oakland's Rick Barry has seen his American Basketball Association leading scoring average dwindle almost five points a game since his return following a knee injury, but he still has no serious contenders.

Barry, now averaging 33.8 points per game, holds a slim lead over Minnesota's Connie Hawkins (33.4). But Hawkins has just undergone knee surgery this week and will be out of action until late in the season.

James Jones of New Orleans, the No. 3 scorer in well back with a 26.8 mark followed by Larry Jones of Denver (25.1) and Kentucky's Darrel Carrier (24.3).

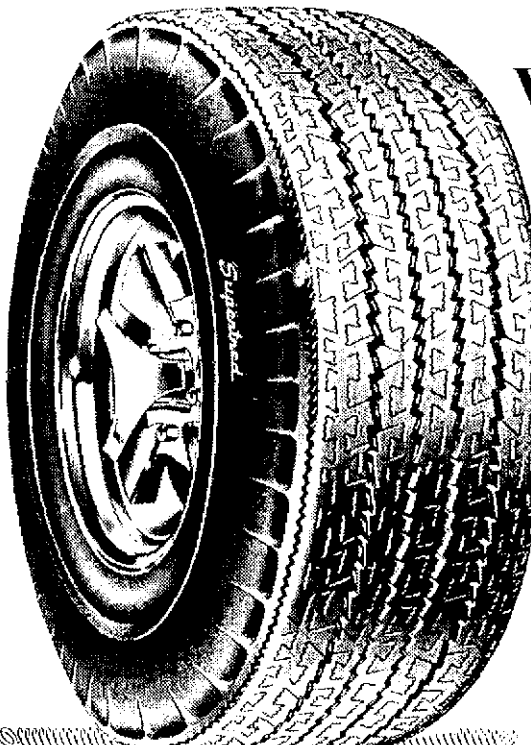

Rounding out the top 10 scorers are: Louis Dampier, Kentucky (24.3); Willie Somerset, New York (23.2); Mel Daniels, Indiana (22.9); Don Freeman, Miami (21.1) and Warren Armstrong, Oakland (20.8).

Daniels is the rebounding leader, with 791, an average of 15.5 per game while Jim Enkins of Oakland leads in two-point field goals with a .515 mark and Carrier is high in three-point goal percentage with .379.

Barry is tops in free throw percentage with an .882 average while Oakland's Larry Brown leads in assists with an average of 8.70 per game.

Industrialist urges preservation of natural resources

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Modern business know-how and the tools of giant modern industry must be employed in the fight to conserve our rapidly dwindling natural resources, before it is too late, according to one of the nation's leading industrialists.

"We feel that this matter of man polluting his environment," said Willard P. "Al" Rockwell Jr., "man disrupting and destroying his environment, is one of the greatest problems facing us today."

Rockwell, 55, is chairman of the board of North American Rockwell Corp., a sprawling complex producing everything from the highly-successful Apollo Space Capsule to automotive parts.

"If we do not educate man to the urgency of this problem, man may not be on this earth much longer," Rockwell said Saturday.

Rockwell, a well-known outdoor sportsman, as well as a man concerned with the problems of pollution of water and air here and the new frontiers of space and the ocean, has donated more than a quarter of a million dollars to such outdoor organizations as Ducks Unlimited and Trout Unlimited.

Now that his corporation—formed by the recent merger of Rockwell Standard Corp. and North American Aviation—is concerned with both space and ocean floor exploration, Rockwell says he has some suggestions for those concerned with conservation on a vast scale.

"The situation is far more serious than most people suspect," he said. "There are groups attacking the problem from various angles—mostly specialized—but what is needed is a coordinated program. I see no reason why modern business management techniques—proven so successful in sending men to the moon and back—cannot be applied to this problem which affects not only us but our children and grandchildren."

The laboratories which have provided today's giant corporations with discoveries such as the laser beam, fast-breeder reactors and computers, Rockwell says, have also come up with "off the shelf" discoveries which may be extremely useful when applied to the problem of pollution, declining wildlife species, disappearing habitat for many species of game and fish and the accumulation of waste.

both on the continents and in the sea.

In addition to the pure research field, Rockwell added, the techniques which have helped industry from a management standpoint, also should be utilized in the conservation fight.

"What we need," Rockwell said, "is a group able to tackle the problem of environmental managements on the highest level of government. I think here are some trends now starting in this direction...and hopefully in the near future the federal government, state governments and private industry will all get together with some specific plan."

Asked what sort of specific plan he thought might be developed, Rockwell said the administration of President Richard Nixon would do well to listen to men who have learned to solve such problems as space travel, big business and of technology. "Not that he won," Rockwell said. "He's already demonstrated that he is oriented toward a cabinet of men who have proven themselves professionals in their own field. But this conservation program needs an immense shot in the arm.

"There are some fairly simple specifics I can think of myself which might help. In the area of tax credit. A committee, any committee which is formed, should look into the methods by which credits might be given to those businesses which install anti-pollution devices. These credits need not be of a blanket nature," he said. "But could be applied to businesses which install devices more rapidly than others. Presumably these tax credits would be at a federal level, but the possibility of state and municipal credits also should be investigated.

"Also there should be a review of industrial operation budgets," Rockwell said, "to find out whether or not sufficient conservation and anti-pollution funds have been set aside." Rockwell said a generalized, sweeping "beautification" program was not enough.

A special committee appointed by the administration and composed of industrialists concerned about and familiar with the problems of conservation—as well as professional conservationists, should urge trade associations to subscribe to an "advisory board's" conservation program. Associations would be assisted in preparing materials for distribution to their memberships.

"Local business groups—Rotary, Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce," Rockwell said, "could be encouraged to subscribe to the advisory board or council's conservation code and would be responsible for stimulating local businesses to follow sound conservation practices."

This code, Rockwell added, would not be a weak pledge but would have to be one with some teeth in it. It would be one where business would have to police each other and would include pledges not to pollute water, air or land with industrial waste, whether gaseous, liquid or solid.

Value of planning stressed in urbanization of farmland

STROUDSBURG — "Planning should guide the land use shift from agriculture to urban use in the best interest of the public and provide for keeping some of the best agricultural land in farms."

"Planning related to agricultural land should be based on a proven system of land classification. There is a definite need for acceleration of the Soil Survey."

This was one of the points made by the Monroe County Soil and Water Conservation District in its statement at a public hearing before the Governor's Committee on the Agricultural Preservation in Scranton recently.

Included in the first point as: "Definite assistance should be given to county and township municipalities to get the initial stages of community planning accomplished." Other points were:

Determine some basis for maintaining class one and two land in agricultural communities for long term use by agriculture.

—Provide for taxing of land need for agriculture, woodland, water supply and open space according to present use, not potential development use. This will help to relieve the pressure on farmers to subdivide or sell to subdividers. In this light, explore the possibilities of having Act 515 expanded to include all counties in Pennsylvania.

—A special fee or property tax should be assessed when land use is shifted from agriculture, woodland, water supply or open space, to discourage exploitation of tax relief (as related to previous statement).

In answer to questions raised pertaining to the preservation of agricultural land, the district suggested the following:

One — Can you predict today how much land is needed for agricultural use in the future? Answer: No, new and advanced technology make this prediction difficult.

Two — Do you believe we should preserve land for future use by agriculture? Answer: Yes, especially Class One and Class Two and other land that will best serve the public interest by remaining in agriculture.

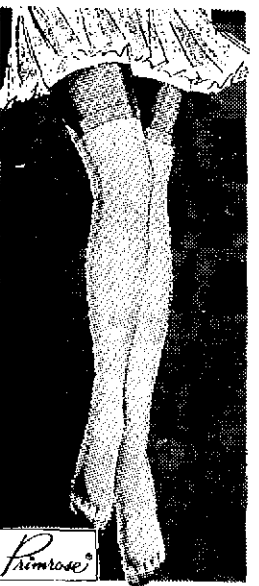

Three — Do you believe we should preserve land for the future uses for transportation, recreation, education, residential growth, industrial development and solid waste disposal? Answer: Yes (to each use), in the best interest of the public.

Four — Do you think that present planning of the use of land is essential to adequately meet all of our needs that use land? Yes, planning is essential at the present time. Planning processes should be improved.

Five — If agricultural land is to be preserved for agricultural use, how would you accomplish this? It should be based on a definite system of land classification.

New York's Voice of Broadway

NEW YORK — Trouble backstage at "Hair": someone's cutting up the costumes . . . That could be an improvement! . . . TV's perkier witch Elizabeth Montgomery and Bill Asher, already parents of two, are totting up No. 3 . . . "The Rain People" filming in Winchester, Va., tried to sign its almost wrecked his dad's Egyptian construction business so pop popped him into grease-paint.

Shenandoah Apple Blossom Queen to a movie contract but she declined saying her grandpop mightn't like it: she's Barbara Ann Eisenhower.

Parisian songsmith Charles Trenet luckily wasn't near the mailbox at his Marne mansion when a bomb some tin-can planted exploded . . . MGM's second biggest cash-maker "Ben Hur" gets reissued next month; MGM expects to haul in $15,000,000 this time 'round atop its $30,000,000 grossed so far . . . Same studio estimated the current reissue of its biggest moneymaker of all time, "Gone With The Wind," would gross $25,000,000 and came within $500,000 of the guess.

Bess Myerson's New York City job may be anything up to License Commissioner.

At the Riverboat where the great Bobby Hackett's group alternates with trombone virtuoso Urbie Green's, Bobby's trombone star Vic Dickinson dug a brilliant run by Urbie and turning to Bobby sighed: "Let that be a lesson to me!"

Bobby's description of Count Basie's sense of humor: a saxman was sitting in temporarily with the Count's great band and asked Basie, "When's the last time I played with you, Bill?" . . . Basie never looked up as he off-handedly replied, "Now!"

Jane Withers is over her mourning period for deceased husband Ken Errair and is dating businessman Ed Bell . . . Allan and Maria Jones had a cake with two candles at Davy Jones' spot to celebrate their 2nd wedding anniversary . . . Movie firms (such as Columbia) are moving quietly into the Community Antenna TV systems: they'll be the film theatres of the future.

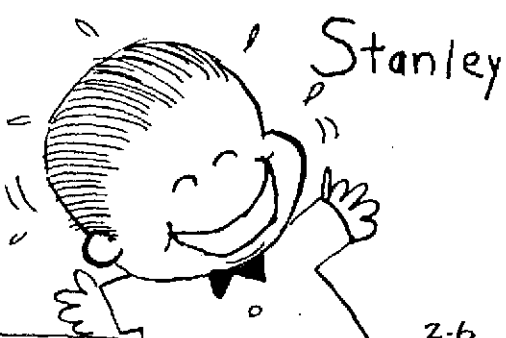

London's theatre ticket brokers plus advance boxoffice sales total $1,700,000 to assure Ginger Rogers' "Mame!" troupe there a sellout first 32 weeks: "Imagine!" Ginger said, "Spending all that money to see me — without Fred Astaire!"

Remember Ringling Bros.' circus star Unus who used to stand upside down on one finger? He's still around the Big Top, now a dignified but anxious father who stands quietly on the ground while daring aerialists La Toria flings through the air in the '68 circus: she's his daughter.

Ann Landers

Stumbled on mother, mate

Dear Ann Landers: I am still stunned by the letter from the woman who stumbled over her husband and her sister in the backyard at 5:00 a.m. It was so much like my problem 13 years ago. Only it wasn't my sister, it was my mother. Your advice was excellent and I hope the woman who wrote to you takes it.

My mother was twice divorced. When I caught her with my husband she was "between husbands," drinking heavily and very mixed up. I was shocked and brokenhearted. The two people I loved most in the world had betrayed me. How could they?

I prayed for courage and compassion and my prayers were answered. I vowed never to mention the ugly incident again and I kept my word. My husband has kept his word, too. He has devoted his life to making me happy. He is a loyal and loving mate. Our marriage is a good one.

My mother is now married to Number Three and we are on friendly terms. I am glad now that I closed no doors. For had I done so, I would have been on the outside.

BEEN THERE TOO

Dear B.T.: Your courage and selflessness paid off. Heartiest congratulations.

Dear Ann Landers: Did you know that God is a Negro, a Catholic and a Democrat? Well, neither did we until recently. Our neighbors just left — but not before they spelled it all out. We expressed some surprise at this allegation and were told, "It's all there in the Bible." When we asked, "Where in the Bible?" we were advised to "read between the lines."

Please check with your authorities, Ann, and let us know if they can produce any evidence to substantiate this astonishing statement. Thank you.

Better approach

By JEAN ADAMS

SHORT CIRCUIT: (Q.) My girl friend and I lose interest in a boy whenever he starts to like us. Is this normal for girls of 15?

Fairly Popular but Mixed Up in Spokane, Wash.

(A.) I believe you are going at things the wrong way. You lead a boy in to feed your ego and build your popularity. Then when you get his interest you find out you don't want it.

The right way is to be especially nice to a boy because you really like him and would like to go with him.

Try this way from now on. Remember, though, it doesn't mean being rude to boys you don't care to go with. It just means not giving them the wrong impression.

There are many girls, and boys, too, like you. When they find out their mistake and correct it, they are happier and have more fun.

MEETING: (Q.) My boy friend and I met at the game and sat beside each other. Should I have put my arm through his? Should I have let him buy me something to eat? He's 13 and I'm 12.

Ann in Newark, N.J.

(A.) If you and your friend hadn't planned in advance to sit together at the game, then, no, you should not have walked with your arm in his and you should not have expected him to buy you something to eat.

On the other hand, if you have known him for some time and if he asked you at school or on the phone to meet him and sit with him, then both of these would have been in order.

When a boy and a girl get together without a previous plan, it is proper for her to

Farm notices given out in area

STROUDSBURG — Farm program notices listing individual farm allotments, base acreages, yields and payment rates under the 1969 wheat and feed grain programs have been mailed to producers in Monroe County, according to Paul R. Everett, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

The information will enable farmers to decide whether they want to take part in the programs and to plan the extent of their participation. Program benefits include price-support loans and payments and diversion payments.

If a producer believes that a commodity yield, the wheat allotment, a feed grain base, rate, or the conserving base shown on the notice for his farm is incorrect, he may ask the county committee to reconsider the matter.

Requests for reconsideration should be made in writing and mailed or delivered to the county committee within 15 days from the mailing date shown on the notice.

To take part in the programs, the farm operator first files his intentions on an application form at the ASCS county office during the sign-up period which begins Feb. 3 and extends through March 21.

Judge grants three decrees

STROUDSBURG — Joyce Heller Hickey, 25, 1021 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, Friday was granted a final divorce decree by the Monroe County Court from William J. Hickey, 27, Bound Brook, N.J., on grounds of indignities, desertion and cruel and barbarous treatment after a marriage of seven years.

Other final decrees granted on Friday were to Jane Lowe Smith, 39, Saylorsburg, from James J. Lowe, 56, Rosedale, N.Y., on grounds of indignities after a marriage of 22 years, and Linda Gorman Kapulka, 20, Kunkletown R.D. 2, from John T. Kapulka, 22, Clayson, Mich., on grounds of indignities after a marriage of two years.

Replace carrier

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina is getting rid of its only aircraft carrier, the "Independencia," and is replacing it with one acquired from the Dutch navy, the newspaper La Razon reports. The old carrier probably will be sold to Peru, the paper said.

SWIFTWATER — The concert Sunday afternoon at Pocono Mountain High School by the Drew University College Choir will mark the first effort in the New Year by the Central Pocono Ecumenical Conference.

According to the Rev. John Zondag, pastor of the Conadensis United Methodist Church, and chairman for the event, more than 40 young men and women comprise the choir which will present a varied program of music beginning at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium at the Swiftwater School. Lester W. Berenbroick, assistant professor of music and university organist, will direct the choir in selections from secular composers and religious music by such masters as Palestrina, Scarlatti or William Byrd.

The choir has, during the past 10 years, logged more than 30,000 miles to present programs which have been labeled by hearers as "exciting," and "outstanding." The gamut of musical selections will be included in the program, cued by Berenbroick, whose background at the Juilliard School of Music equips him for the task of directing a choir which has toured nearly 11 states.

Berenbroick noted, in regard to Sunday's concert, "The wide use of individual talents displayed by various members of the choir will enhance this concert." This concert, one of more than 20 concerts arranged during semester break at Drew, is representative of the type of music produced on the recording recently made by the choir for commercial presentation.

Planning under study

BUSHKILL — Members of the Middle Smithfield Township Planning Commission discussed proposed zoning and subdivision plans with township supervisors recently during a regular meeting of the supervisors at the home of the secretary, Sterling Schoonover.

Ewing Julestadi, chairman and Charles LeBar, of the planning commission, submitted maps for study. No action was taken.

A meeting will be scheduled by the planners to revise projected plans.

Sound thinking Course for parents

By RITA JAMES

Dear Rita: I have a child not quite a year old and I fear he may be deaf, as he does not respond to voices or sounds as I think he should. Will you please tell me if there is a correspondence course or any available information for parents on what to do when in doubt?

MRS. McD.

Dear Mrs. McD.: Yes, there is a correspondence course for parents of deaf children. Mrs. Spencer Tracy, wife of the former actor, is founder and president of The John Tracy Clinic, 866 W. Adams Boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif., which provides such a course free of charge.

The whole idea is to help parents of deaf children get off to a good start in the development and training of such children. Why not consult your doctor and find out if deafness is your child's problem.

Dear Rita: What is an audiogram?

ETHEL S.

Dear Ethel: An audiogram is a graphic record of the measurement of hearing for both air and bone conduction.

Dear Rita: I do not hear so well and want to do something about it, but I am afraid I will have to wear one of those awful hearing aids with a big blood in my ear attached to a string that seems to go somewhere under the clothing. I just couldn't wear one of those. What can I do, I am terribly upset about my inability to hear my friends?

AUDREY

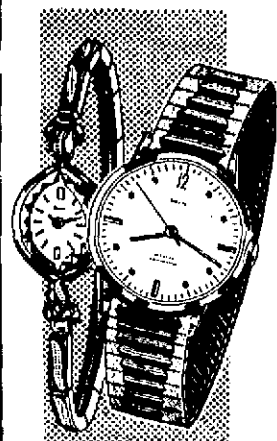

Dear Audrey: Ask your doctor to recommend an ear specialist and have him examine your ears and make his recommendations. It is possible that your hearing loss may be helped by surgery.

Dear Rita: Is it possible for me to claim tax deductions for my hearing aid, batteries, repairs, etc., when making out my income tax return?

BILL W.

Dear Bill: Yes, you may deduct the cost of your hearing aid, batteries, earmolds, repairs, tuition books and transportation for lip reading classes may also be listed. However, allowances may only be taken in the year in which these charges were paid.

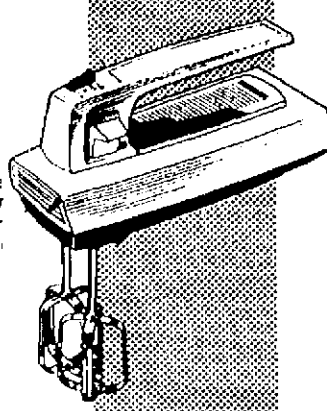

If you have questions you would like discussed in this column — send them in — your name will not be used without your permission. Confidential letters will be answered by mail, but be sure to send a stamped, self addressed envelope, to Rita James, care of The Pocono Record, 511 Lenox St., Stroudsburg, Pa. 18360.

It takes an expert to grade beef!

In our great country we're lucky.

Our government trains and employs experts...men who inspect and grade beef at hundreds of locations throughout the nation.
They protect you...and retailers, like us.

Also important are A&P's own beef experts.

Their job is to see to it that A&P Beef measures up to our own "SUPER-RIGHT" quality standards... standards which don't exactly fit our government's grading categories.

For instance, some beef graded U.S. Choice

just doesn't meet our "SUPER-RIGHT" specifications.

No wonder we don't hesitate to guarantee that the "SUPER-RIGHT" Beef you buy will be as flavorful and tender as you think it should be,

or your money back.

So, you don't have to become an expert to choose great beef for your family...just shop A&P!
